WorkJam Messages

Real-Time Communication

The speed at which you can communicate with everyone on the frontline is critical for productivity, culture and business agility.

Can you reach all your frontline employees in an instant?

The reality is that your employees are already messaging with each other, just not on an approved compliant and auditable app. Without a company-sanctioned solution in place, employees turn to insecure freeware options to have conversations about work and schedules. These solutions allow employees to communicate freely, but managers and head office have no way of monitoring things nor communicate at scale to the frontline.

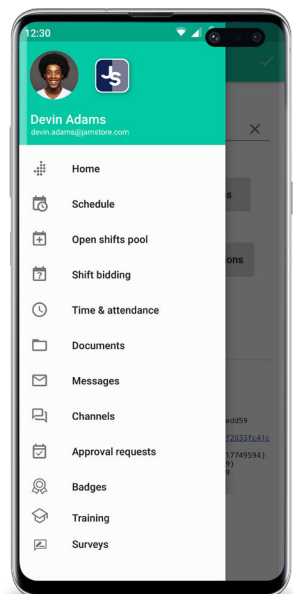

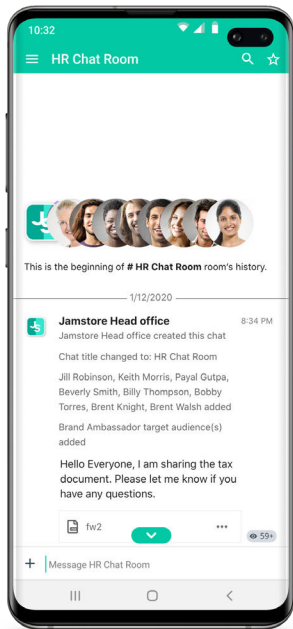

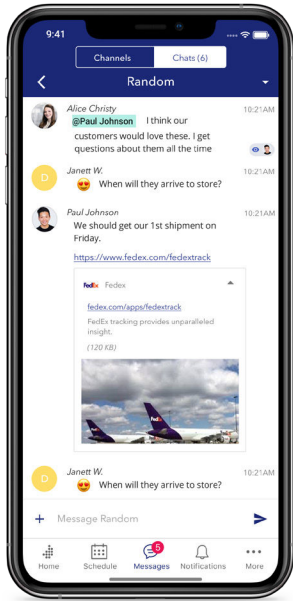

Bad weather incidents, location incidents, operational emergencies - these things all happen. Changes to the day's plan will happen as well, so having the ability for frontline employees to communicate with each other on a company-sponsored solution in a way that is quick and efficient, but also ensures that messages will be safe and compliant is essential. Creating a scenario where collaboration is effortless and makes for faster decision-making is also crucial as it gives managers a way to disseminate important, relevant information but only to those who need it. With WorkJam's Messages functionality, standalone or as part of a digital workplace, the worries of the past make way for the work at hand.

Here's how we help:

Employee Teams: Communicate freely while managers stay in the loop. Create customized groups for focused conversations about specific topics. Frontline employees can direct message each other or their managers. Employees can share ideas. And, they can ask questions and get help without having to physically search for a manager to get the answer.

Location Managers: Get alignment. Stay informed. Work as one. Message all scheduled employees with the day's agenda. Video record the team meeting so all can review during the day. Read receipts provide managers a way to know precisely who has seen the update and who hasn't.

Regional Managers: Break through the static and noise by reaching and connecting directly with the frontline. Engage your managers daily to stay connected.

IT/Security: Deploy not just a tool, but a suite of abilities, keeping your partners engaged and operationally agile. Sleep well, knowing there are audit and GDPR capabilities along with military-grade encryption.

Head Office/HR: Will also sleep well knowing these interactions can be monitored to ensure compliance with codes of conduct, and personal information is not available anywhere on the platform as WorkJam does not require personal identifying information.

WorkJam Messages brings real-time communication to frontline employees and managers, fostering operational efficiencies in a manner that is secure, and that allows for managerial oversight. Managers can share files, keep staff updated on new policies, and celebrate the accomplishments of the team.

REAL-TIME COLLABORATION DRIVES OPERATIONAL EFFICIENCIES; GET FOCUSED WITH CONVERSATION ROOMS

WorkJam Messages gives managers or employees the ability to create conversation rooms, which can be grouped in any way fitting; subject, shift, role, etc. These focused rooms can improve collaboration, engagement and results of your teams.

CULTIVATE A LEGENDARY WORKPLACE CULTURE WITH REAL-TIME INTERACTION

When teams can talk freely and cultivate meaningful connections with each other on a corporate-sanctioned platform, it encourages a strong company culture that is motivating and can turn an organization into an employer of choice, leading to operational efficiencies and reduced turnover.

Messages is available as a module on its own or as part of the WorkJam Digital Workplace suite.
